PLATFORM OVERVIEW

Built to Connect the Animal Welfare Network

RescueNet360 combines public pet tools, shelter operations, foster coordination, reunification workflows, and regional support systems into one connected platform. The goal is simple: help organizations work smarter and improve outcomes for animals.

PILOT PROGRAM

Help Shape the Future of Animal Welfare

We are currently looking for shelters and rescue organizations interested in helping test and shape RescueNet360 during early development. Pilot partners receive free early access and direct input into future platform features and workflows.

OUR MISSION

Built to Improve Outcomes for Animals

Animal welfare teams are being asked to do more with limited resources and disconnected systems. RescueNet360 exists to improve coordination, visibility, and decision-making so more animals can get the care, protection, and reunification they deserve.

SHELTERS & RESCUES

Animal Welfare Is Hard Enough. Your Tools Shouldn't Make It Harder.

RescueNet360 helps shelters and rescues connect animal records, intake workflows, foster coordination, reunification, and more in one place so your team can spend less time chasing information and more time helping animals.

THE PROBLEM

Sound Familiar?

Most shelters and rescues are managing critical work across a mix of spreadsheets, emails, paper notes, and separate software systems.

- ❗ Scattered records across multiple systems
- ❗ Limited visibility across teams and partner organizations
- ❗ Missed reunification opportunities
- ❗ Staff time spent finding data instead of helping animals
- ❗ Harder decisions with incomplete information

THE SOLUTION

One Connected Platform

RescueNet360 brings together the tools shelters and rescues need to work more effectively.

 Intake and animal tracking	 Pet identity and records
 Lost/found and reunification	 Foster placement tools
 Transport workflow support	 Public profiles and applications
 Reporting and analytics	 Contacts, tasks, and docs

Help Shape What Gets Built Next

RescueNet360 is in active development. We're looking for a small group of shelters and rescues to test real workflows, share honest feedback, and help us prioritize what matters most. No cost. No commitment beyond honest feedback.

🔓 Free early access to the platform

💬 Direct input into features and workflows

★ Early adopter status as the platform grows

Also includes priority access to the dev team, free migration support during onboarding, and early adopter recognition. No cost. No commitment beyond honest feedback.

SPONSORS & PARTNERS

Support the Infrastructure That Protects Animals

Sponsors help fund the tools and coordination systems that improve outcomes across entire communities and regions.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF PARTNERSHIP

This Is Not Traditional Advertising

Sponsors help support tools and infrastructure that improve animal welfare operations, pet protection, and reunification efforts within their communities and regions. Sponsor presence is visible without feeling like advertising.

REGIONAL MODEL

Funding That Stays Local

RescueNet360 supports regional coordination models where sponsors help fund infrastructure that benefits shelters, rescues, and pet owners within specific communities or counties.

Regional sponsorship support

Shelter and rescue sponsorship

Fund infrastructure that serves shelters, rescues, and pet owners across specific counties and regions.

Directly support individual organizations working to improve outcomes for animals in your community.

Community pet protection

Fund public tools like lost/found reporting, QR registration, and reunification infrastructure.

Event and awareness partnerships

Partner on awareness campaigns and community outreach that drive real impact.

Interested in Supporting RescueNet360?

We would love to talk about regional sponsorship opportunities and how your support creates lasting community impact.

ABOUT

Why RescueNet360 Exists

RescueNet360 exists to improve coordination, visibility, and decision-making across the animal welfare ecosystem. The goal is to help shelters, rescues, pet owners, and community partners work together more effectively to improve outcomes for animals.

Animal welfare data is too fragmented

Animal welfare data and workflows are often spread across disconnected systems, making coordination difficult and slowing critical decisions. This affects intake, reunification, foster coordination, transport, operational visibility, and long-term animal outcomes.

The need is growing

Shelters and rescues are facing increasing pressure with limited resources and growing operational complexity. There is a real need for connected systems that support collaboration, visibility, and faster decision-making across organizations and communities.

Built by people who care about animal welfare

RescueNet360 was created by people passionate about improving animal welfare operations and building better systems to support the people doing the work every day. As development continues, the platform is being shaped alongside feedback from shelters, rescues, and community partners.
